

ELDER DALBY HAS UNUSUAL CHURCH RECORD

GREENCASTLE BAPTIST MINIS-TER HAS SERVED CHURCH,
DANVILLE, ILL., 43 YEARS

WONT LET HIM QUIT

Native Of Coles County, Ill., Has Lived In Greencastle
Since 1894

A minister since he was 29 years old and pastor of the same church for the past 43 years, is the unusual record of Jasper N. Dalby, 74-year-old Primitive Baptist minister and Putnam county probation officer.

Born in Coles County, Ill., December 14, 1855, Mr. Dalby spent his early life and was married there. He joined the Primitive Baptist Church in 1884 and gave his first public sermon in 1887. Since then he has pastored churches continually until the past few years when ill health prevented active church work.

Five years ago he asked for release from all church work on account of ill health and his advanced age. With the exception of the one church which he still serves he has discontinued church work.

His shortest service with any of the sixteen churches he has served, was three years. With one exception he served churches until released at his own request.

Illinois churches pastored by Elder Dalby are the Linn Creek Church, Monticello county; Union church, Shelby county; Willie Creek church, Dundas church, Grayville Church, Okavau Church, and Friendship Church, Panna, Indiana churches where he has held pastorates are the Bethel Church on Little Walnut; Deer Creek Church south of Greencastle; Fairbanks Church; Old Beach Church, Posey county; Bethlehem Church, Posey county; Taylor's Creek Church, Grant county; and Pilgrim's Rest Church, Hamilton county.

Mr. Dalby has continuously served the Hopewell Church at Danville, Ill., for the past 43 years and still preaches there following the church's refusal to release him.

He came to Greencastle in 1894 and has lived here continuously since that time with the exception of eighteen months at New Ross, in Montgomery county. He was married to Miss Nancy Hurst in Illinois August 11, 1875. She died here two years ago. Mr. Dalby has no record of the number of sermons he has delivered or the couples he has married, but they run into the hundreds.

Although ill health has prevented the active life he formerly led, Mr. Dalby still is able to attend to probatory duties at the Court House.

BANKS GET CALL

SEN. WATSON SAYS HE WILL RETIRE IN 1932

VETERAN INDIANA REPUBLICAN LEADER TO QUIT POLITICS AT END OF PRESENT TERM

Senator James E. Watson, senior United States senator from Indiana and senate floor leader has strongly indicated that he would not be a candidate for re-election in 1932.

Watson is quoted as saying that "it is time for me to make my personal fortune."

The report said that Watson at the same time denied rumors that he contemplated retiring before 1932 to assume leadership of a large corporation and association of manufacturers.

"I am not contemplating retiring before 1932," Watson is quoted as saying. "It is time however, for me to make personal fortune. I have devoted thirty-six years of my life to public service, during that time I have been a member of every important committee in the senate. I have gone as far as I can get and it is time for me to think of making my personal fortune."

Watson is said to have been in poor health for several months. He came to Indiana Monday to visit his family at Winchester and was in Indianapolis New Year's day with Mrs. Watson to participate in the reception at the governor's mansion. He was to leave late Thursday for Washington.

2 RESIGN FROM HOUSE

Resignation of two members of the Indiana House of Representatives were accepted yesterday by Governor Harry G. Leslie. William C. Dentinger, Democrat, of Connersville, resigned because of his recent election as mayor of his home city. The other representative to resign was Joseph J. Rice of Attica, also a Democrat.

KIWANIS CLUB REPORTS ARE INTERESTING

RETIRING PRESIDENT, SECRETARY, AND TREASURER IN ANNUAL REPORTS

ATTENDANCE WAS GOOD

Local Kiwanians Were Most Active
During Past Twelve Months.
Many Feature Meetings

At the meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon the time was taken up with reports of the retiring officers. Dr. W. M. McGaughey, who has served the club seven years as secretary, made a most interesting report showing that the club had had the largest average attendance for the past year that it has ever had. The attendance by months was as follows: Jan. 77%; Feb. 66%; Mar. 91%; April 91%; May 80%; June 76%; July 63%; August 53%; Sept. 80%; Oct. 80%; Nov. 85%; Dec. 80%. This gave an average attendance of 77% plus for the year. The club began the year with a membership of 49 and closed the year with a membership of 52. The report of the treasurer for the past year revealed the fact that there is a nice balance in the treasury. Perry Rush is the retiring treasurer.

B. H. Bruner, the retiring president made a report in which the following outstanding events of the year were mentioned. A fine spirit has prevailed in the club throughout the year making attendance at the meetings a pleasure to all. The attendance has been above the average, and in the attendance contest in the division, the Greencastle stood second. One of the biggest events of the year was the local attendance contest between the Kis and the Was. The new members received during the year were of a very high quality. A special Daughter's Night meeting was held; the High School Ball team was entertained at a special meeting; two picnics for the ladies were held; two community meetings, one in Bainbridge and one in Russellville, were held; one interesting meeting was held at the State Farm; and a Christmas party was given for a group of boys.

The club was well represented at district and inter-club meetings, and had two representatives at the International Convention and registered one hundred per cent at the state convention in Terre Haute last fall. At this convention Milt Brown was elected Lt. Governor of the new fifth division. For the first time Kiwanis Scholarship keys were given to the highest ranking students in the High School Senior Class. One hundred dollars was sent to Kiwanis Wing of the Riley Memorial Hospital.

Milt Brown presented the past president's pin to B. H. Bruner, the retiring president and expressed the appreciation of the members of the club for the work of the year. He also presented the president's pin to Glenn Lyon the newly elected president and gave him the charge for the new year.

Sam Hanna was voted into the club as a new member at the meeting. Don Moffett was congratulated by the new president on his recent promotion to the head of the Athletic Dept. of DePauw University. The new president spoke in a fine way of his sense of responsibility and of his willingness to assume that responsibility and do his best for the interests of the club for the coming year.

Auto License Sale Is Slow

ONLY 370 AUTO LICENSES OUT OF TOTAL OF 3,800 AT LOCAL BRANCH HAVE BEEN SOLD

With only 370 out of a total of 3,800 passenger automobile plates, sold to date by the local auto license branch, many Putnam County motorists, will be found without a 1930 license when February 1, the final day for securing the license, comes around.

According to employees of the Franklin Street Garage, local distributing agency, license sales this year have been unusually slow. Out of 600 truck plates, only 40 have been sold.

Motorists applying for new licenses must bring their certificates of title with them. It was reported that many motorists have applied for new licenses without bringing their ownership titles.

The Choir of the Methodist church will practice Saturday evening at 7, instead of tonight.

"Stop or Get Hurt"

Following the killing of three runners off Newport, R. I., Rear Admiral Frederick G. Billard of Washington, commandant of the U. S. coast guards warns that his force "means business" and that the rum runner who fails to heed the command of a coast guard craft to halt "runs a serious risk of getting hurt."

BROKEN ARCH BAR DAMAGES MONON TRACK

ACCIDENT SOUTH OF WALNUT CREEK BRIDGE NORTH OF CITY TEARS UP 300 TIES

A broken box car arch bar on a southbound Monon extra freight train Thursday morning, tore up about 300 ties of the railroad track just south of the Walnut Creek bridge, north of Greencastle, causing about $1,500 damage.

A wrecker from McDoel yards at Bloomington assisted local section men in cleaning up the wreckage without delay of Monon traffic. The box car was only slightly damaged. None of the cars were derailed.

MENINGITIS TOLL AT 47

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (UP)—Indiana's spinal meningitis death toll mounted to 47 today with two deaths reported, while further reports from outstate points indicated spread of the disease.

One death in Indianapolis brought the fatality list for the city to 40 persons, with 20 more under treatment.

LaCrosse, LaPorte county, reported one death. LaPorte schools have been closed and all public gatherings postponed.

South Bend health officers were preparing an isolation hospital with four cases of the disease reported yesterday.

WILL ATTEND KIWANIANS HOSPITAL UNIT DEDICATION

Inspection trips through the James Whitcomb Riley hospital for children arranged by the Riley Memorial Association and hospital authorities as an event to precede the dedication of the new $150,000 Kiwanis unit, Tuesday night, will be conducted by committees of Indianapolis men and women.

A. S. Kress of Terre Haute, chairman of the Riley-Kiwanis state committee, announced the appointment of a men's and a women's reception committee made up of Indianapolis Kiwanians and their wives. These committee members will conduct out-of-town visitors on trips through the hospital, beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Milton Brown, district lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis, and Rev. B. H. Bruner, past president of the Greencastle Kiwanis club, probably will represent the Greencastle club at the dedication program.

Ambassador Resigns

Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, resigning as ambassador to Germany, will return home the middle of January. He is 76.

PLANE CRASH HIGH IN AIR; 10 ARE DEAD

CABIN PLANS CARRYING TEN
PERSONS COLLIDE 4,000 FEET
IN AIR OVER OCEAN

FILM DIRECTOR A VICTIM

Kenneth Hawks, Husband of Mary
Astor, Dies In Fatal Plunge
Near Santa Monica

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Jan. 3—Ten persons, occupants of two cabin planes which collided 4,000 feet in the air over the ocean off Santa Monica, died when the planes burned and plunged into the sea, late yesterday.

The complete list of dead, including Kenneth Hawks, husband of Mary Astor, film star, and a motion picture director, were announced by the Fox studio as follows:

Kenneth Hawks, director.
Max Gold, assistant director.
Capt. Ralph Cook, pilot.
Halleck Rouse, pilot.
Conrad Wells, camera man.
George Eastman, camera man.
Ben Frankel, assistant camera man.
Otto Jordan, property man.
Hank Johannes, property man.
Tom Harris, property man.

Witnesses, including Hoot Gibson and Roscoe Turner, who was piloting the plane from which a parachute jumper was to leap for a picture, said it would have been impossible for any one to have escaped alive.

As described by witnesses the two planes carrying the cameramen were flying one above the other. The upper plane suddenly dipped until its wing touched that of the plane below.

The two ships swung around until they were forced into a head-on collision. Instantly they burst into flames, and plunged.

"I was standing on the beach and saw them hit," said Hoot Gibson. "There was a great sheet of flame. It seemed to cover both ships. I saw two bodies come hurtling out of one of the burning planes and fall down toward the ocean."

"Then the two blazing planes plunged down."

Turner, who was piloting his plane at a little distance, carrying the parachute jumper, immediately turned and raced back to Clover field, where he made a report of the accident.

Hawks is the brother of William Hawks, recently married to Bessie Love. A third brother, Howard Hawks, also is well known in motion pictures.

The planes which collided were Stinson-Detroit monoplane.

NO SPINAL MENINGITIS

Dr. W. M. McGaughey, city health officer, stated Friday afternoon that there is absolutely no foundation to the current remarks around over the city, that there is a case or more of spinal meningitis in Greencastle.

A reporter interviewed all local doctors Friday and it was found that outside of two or three children who have been confined to their homes with minor ailments, that there is no illness among children, as has been stated.

The schools are using every precaution in the ventilation and fumigation of the buildings. Doctors prescribe antiseptic mouth and throat washes, also.

Grant Paroles To 76 Convicts

PENDLETON, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP)—Paroles were granted to prisoners at the Indiana State Reformatory here today by the prison board of trustees. The list of 130 applications was the greatest number considered by the board since the reformatory was removed from Jeffersonville.

At a board reorganization meeting held yesterday morning, the trustees made Brooks Collins, Rockville, president to succeed John Hoy, Lebanon. Other officers elected were: Glenn Harrison, Attica, treasurer; Homer K. York, Marion, secretary, and Paul Homan, Lebanon, vice president.

Among those granted paroles were: Emil Salory and Oliver Monney, both of Gary, sentenced from one to ten years for robbery.

James Robbins, who with five companions, held up and robbed the Up-land State Bank of $2,500 on Dec. 23, 1924. He was released because of good behavior after serving five years of a ten-to-25-year term.

Walter White, Fort Wayne, who has admitted stealing 58 automobiles, was paroled.

Arthur Walser, Fairmount, was refused a parole and his case continued for three years. He was convicted of poisoning a young cousin to collect the insurance.

Killed By Rum Chaser

Dudley Brandt of Boston is one of Black Duck, rum runner, who was killed when U. S. coast guardsmen fired on fleeing boat off Newport, R. I. Another was critically wounded.

BUS DRIVER HAS CRASH; SAVES LIQUOR

E. R. MORRIS, T. H. I. & E. TRAC-TION CO. DRIVER, TAKES PRO-TECTIVE MEASURES

To protect the T. H. I. & E. traction company from a possible damage suit, E. R. Morris, driver of a motor bus for the company, Thursday took an unusual means of protecting the company from a possible damage suit following a crash between the bus and a Chevrolet car reported to have been driven by a Coatesville man.

After the collision the bus driver, looking into the Coatesville man's car, noticed a quart bottle half full of "white mule." Quietly confiscating the liquor the bus driver went his way. Friday he brought the liquor to local authorities and reported the accident.

Although the bus driver said the automobile driver was intoxicated at the time of the crash, he said he did not call officers because of the other man's pleadings. He intimated, however, that if the other man started any action for damages he wanted the company to be protected, hence the report of the crash.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Saturday. Colder tonight. Moderate cold wave northeast portion. Saturday fair. Rising temperature extreme west portion in afternoon.

STAUD BOSTON AROUSED OVER RUM SLAYINGS

COAST GUARD RECRUITING POS-TERS TORN DOWN BY ANGRY
CROWD

PETTY OFFICER ATTACKED

Historic Boston Common Scene Of Demonstration Against Activities
Of Coast Guard Boats

BOSTON, Jan. 3 (UP)—Boston Common, historic park which slopes down to the business district from staid old Beacon Hill, had today witnessed another demonstration by citizens rising to protest against what they considered injustice.

The incident was regarded here as highly indicative of Boston's dissatisfaction with the administration of the prohibition law and in particular of its belief that the slaying of three rum-runners by coast guards off Newport, R. I., last Sunday was a "massacre."

Recruiting posters placed on the Common by the coast guard were torn down and trampled by an angry crowd. Placards portraying the adventurous life at sea were torn to bits.

Petty Officer George Briggs, in charge of the recruiting stand, was attacked as he tried to protect his post. He escaped as the crowd shouted at him that the coast guards were "murderers."

Coast guard officials termed the crowd's action "an insult to the American flag and one of the best services in the United States."

No arrests were made.

The protest in action on the Common voiced yesterday in old Faneuil hall. A resolution was passed calling on President Hoover to make a thorough and impartial investigation of the Newport prohibition affair.

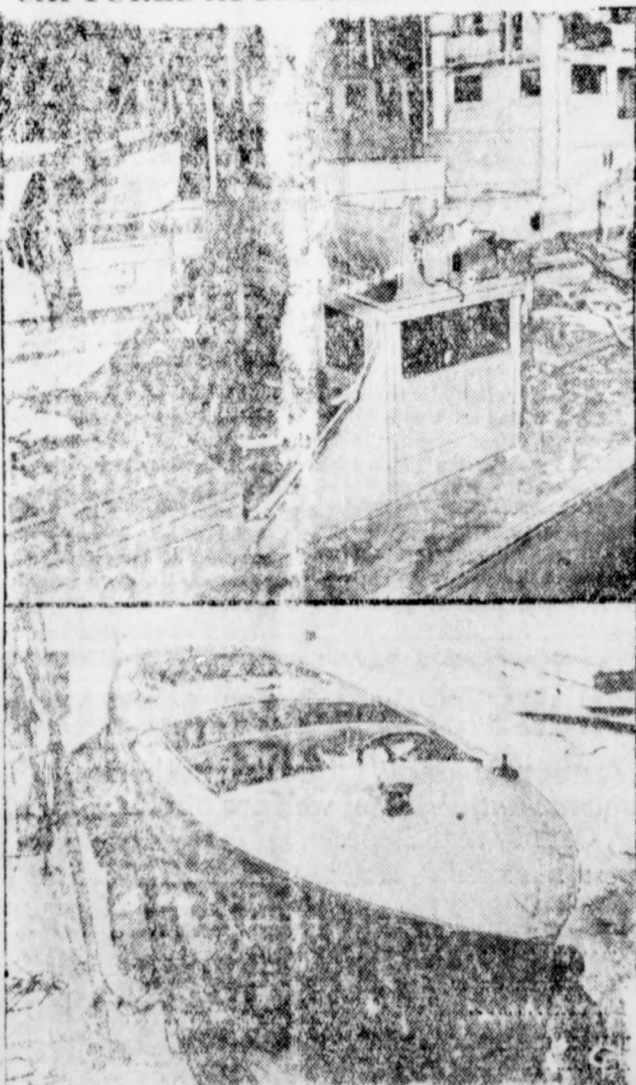

William H. Mitchell, chairman of the meeting, recalled that on March 5, 1770, a man was killed a stone's throw away under the guise of government authority.

BEGINS LIFE TERM

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Jan. 3—Louis Maloney, ex-restaurant owner, began serving a life sentence in the state's prison today for the murder of William White, Dec. 11, during an argument over a waitress. Maloney pleaded guilty to second degree murder five minutes after an indictment was returned against him yesterday by a grand jury.

Sentence was passed by Judge H. L. Crumpacker, in superior court.

CAPTURED AFTER FATAL BATTLES

U. S. coast guardsmen, trying to stop the flow of rum, show they mean business by firing on boats. Top photo is of craft known as the Black Duck, captured in a chase off Dumlupinar Rock, at the eastern entrance of Narragansett Bay R. I., gunfire of coast patrol boat 299 causing deaths of three members of the rum runner's crew, and the critical injury of the fourth member. Picture shows guardsmen inspecting the captured boat with its 500 cases of liquor at New London, Conn. Lower photo shows motorboat in which the late Eugene F. Downey, Jr., 27, of Buffalo, N. Y., was shot to death by guardsmen on the Niagara river. There was no rum in the boat. Three coast guardsmen have been charged with second degree murder in this case.

RAMMED TUG SINKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (UP)—The Municipal ferryboat William Randolph Hearst rammed and sank the tug, Mutual, in the inner bay today, throwing 17 persons into the frigid waters.

Twenty minutes later all had been rescued and five physicians were working to revive the more seriously injured. Carl Carlson, cook on the Mutual, who was suffering from shock, was said to be the most critically hurt.

The Hearst, low in the water with the weight of scores of passengers, had left South Ferry in Manhattan and was edging through a fog in which visibility was limited to 10 feet.

She came into the hook at the foot of Van Brunt street, where the Erie station breakwater pokes its concrete length out into the bay. The Mutual was tied to the breakwater and above on the wall 10 men were at work.

There was no time to avert the awkward ferryboat. She crashed into the tug, knifed the Mutual into halves and threw the ten men on the breakwater into the bay. Capt. Harry Bass of the Mutual and the six members of the crew pitched into the air and landed in the water.

The Hearst back-watered to avoid striking the breakwater and was only slightly damaged. Then began the difficult task of picking the 17 men out of the water.

POLICIES HELD LEGAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (UP)—Appeal to the Supreme court from a ruling of Superior Judge Linn D. Hay in which the issuance of nonassessable reciprocal insurance policies was held as legal, was being prepared today by attorneys.

Hay's ruling made permanent an injunction against Clarence Wyson, state insurance commissioner, prohibiting Wyson from forbidding the sale of such policies.

The decision was on a suit brought by the Automobile Underwriters, Inc., attorneys in fact for the State Auto Insurance Association, seeking a temporary restraining order against Wyson's order. The order was granted by Superior Judge James M. Leathers, and the case later was venued to Hay's court.

Winter Is With Us But Not the Old Time Winter Parties

We have the old time winter, but not the old time winter parties. The automobile, the radio, the motion picture and the dance have taken from the white season its joy its color, its a m u s e m e n t s out of doors which make winter the most picturesque part of the year.

In the old days whole towns joined hands to make the freezing time a festival, observed with community spirit.

The fire department would flood the biggest hill in town and when it froze the most of the population would be there, old and young hurrying through their suppers to coast down the lightning incline in the moonlight.

Streets were roped off, four or five blocks being turned to joy, but today it seems a lost art; the hills still there has the water and the willingness to flood the place, but a generation has grown up which is interested in other things.

And just between you and me this generation is losing out.

When there were the bobbed rides when twenty boys and girls would jump into the sled which was heaped with straw and piled with robes and blankets and thus fortified against the wintry blasts, the driver would swing his whip and the crowd would glide and bump along out into the country, to the farm, whose family would be routed out of bed to cook oysters.

When there were skating parties everywhere, there being a good pond every three or four blocks where one could skate in safety, except for a broken arm or leg, for the water was to shallow for drowning, but as soon as one grew to be nine or ten he turned his back on safety and sought the river.

There's where the sport wasn't the hazard being just enough to add a dash of horseadish, besides there was room on old Eel River, three hundred feet of it from bank to bank and then you could explore up and around the curves where none had gone and thereby hung a thrill.

This reminds us of old Major McFaddin and the skating parties he used to give, and while you didn't have this particular character in your town, you had one just like him, for such rare quaint souls were common when the hangover of the frontier was still upon the middlewest.

This particular major, like the one in your town, wore a broad felt hat, a long Prince Albert coat, low vest and broad white shirt front with an open collar and black string tie.

Every winter Major McFaddin gave a Christmas skating party and there were skates for all, furnished by the host whose fine old face always reminded us of Gladstone's.

And the band was there and great fires along the banks and things to eat.

Nobody ever missed the major's skating parties, that is none of the kids.

The greatest sport of that old river was the game of Shindy.

They call it hockey now, because they play it with a ball and with manufactured clubs, the players wearing gaily colored suits, whereas we just used an old tin can and a crooked stick cut from a tree and as for wardrobes, we were not strictly the last word in fashion.

But, Oh Boy, the fun we had!

Italian Sub-Dictator

The rising power of General Italo Balbo, Italian minister of aviation, seems to indicate he is second only to Premier Benito Mussolini, and may succeed the dictator if the dictator ever is succeeded. General Balbo had De Pinedo, Italian flying ace, "exiled" as air attache in the Argentine, because, it is said, he got too much applause.

INDIANA FOLKS YOU'D LIKE TO KNOW

James A. Guilliams of Putnam county probably did more than any other man to popularize Tunis or "butter-tail" sheep, as they are sometimes called, in this country. The breed is distinguished by the heavy, fat tails, which weigh three to six lbs. when not docked. The history of the breed goes back to 1799, when General William Eaton, who was United States consul at Tunis, in Africa, was able to secure 10 head of them from the Bey, or ruler, of Tunis, although there was a law prohibiting the exportation of these sheep from the country.

Of the 10 head, one ewe and one ram survived the long trip to this country. The progeny of these two individuals were widely scattered because they were generally regarded as freaks or curiosities, and no one made any serious attempt to improve the breed. At the time of the Civil War, most of the sheep of this breed were in the Southern states, and by the end of the war the breed had practically disappeared.

Some 40 years ago, Mr. Guilliams read something about them, and he became interested in them. After long search he found that a flock of them had survived the war, due to the fact that they had been hidden in the wilderness along the Congree river in South Carolina.

Mr. Guilliams liked the breed, and he acquired the interest of his neighbors in them. He has always sold practically all he raised for breeding purposes, and he has started many a man in the business. Milton Bridges of Putnam county, and Mr. Guilliams, organized the first and only registry association in this country. From a dozen animals to begin with, the breed has advanced until there are now some 5,000 registered.

PRELIMINARY SESSION

THE HAGUE, Jan. 3 (UP)—Delegates of the six powers most vitally interested in installing the Owen D. Young reparations plan met today in brief preliminary session prior to formal opening of the second reparations Conference at the Hague.

The preliminary sessions, in which British, French, Italian, Belgian, Japanese and German delegates participated, discussed procedure for the Conference in preparation for the formal plenary session at 5 p. m.

The chamber of deputies hall in the Binnenhof had been newly furnished for the sessions under direction of Premier Henri Jaspar of Belgium, permanent chairman. After the formal opening session committees will discuss reports of the jurists committee.

Despite the general optimism, there were six important suggestions under negotiation.

(1). Settlement of Hungarian reparations, including the question of compensating former owners of estates in what was Hungary but is now part of Rumania, Czechoslovakia or Yugoslavia. Such owners, known as upstarts, whose Hungarian citizenship when their lands were ceded to the newly-created nations after the war.

(2). The Bulgarian settlement, involving Bulgaria's refusal to pay the full reparations sum demanded by the allies. The sum demanded was 15,000,000 francs ($500,000) annually until 1926.

(3). Location of the bank of international settlement, which the bankers committee recommended be established at Basle but which Belgium wants at Brussels.

(4). Settlement of sequestration of German property by England.

(5). Disposition of some 300,000,000 marks (about $72,000,000) balance over war debts in the shift from the Dawes plan to the Young plan.

(6). The question of sanctions to be applied against the Reich of delinquencies in reparations payment. In the questions of sequestered property and the 300,000,000 marks balance, Germany will be expected to renounce claims to several million pounds (in the first case) and the entire 300,000,000 marks (in the second instance).

DOVE KEPT VIGIL

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (UP)—A four-months vigil kept by a strange dove at the bed of an elderly negro was ended yesterday.

The death of W. C. Taylor brought to an end the almost constant watch kept by the bird, thought by the dying man to be a "message from the Lord."

Four weeks after Taylor became seriously ill, members of the family were attracted to the window by a noise. When the window was thrown open a dove flew into the room and came to rest at the head of the sick man's bed.

The old negro, despondent over his illness, brightened and took a new lease on life when the dove came to be his companion. "He's a good sign," Taylor often said.

The dove seldom had been out of sight of the dying man since its arrival September 8. Its favorite perch was at the head of the bed, where it would remain for hours. The bird relieved its watch only by flying a little way out of the window or by perching on the foot of the bed or upon a cabinet nearby.

A moment after the old man died, those at the bedside said, the dove left its perch and fluttered wildly about the room.

INGALLS MARSHAL FINED

ANLERSON, Ind., Jan. 2 —A holiday celebration at Ingalls was aired in police court here today when Chas. Hurlock, town marshal, was found guilty of intoxication and fined $40 and Benton Wilson, restaurant proprietor, was fined $100 and costs for violation of the liquor law. An affidavit charging Hurlock with neglect of duty was dismissed.

WIFE LIKED TO GO

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP)— Verberger preferred to spend
at home with a good book,

but with his wife, Nina, liked wild parties so well she finally deserted him, he alleged in a divorce suit filed in Hammond Superior court.

HAPPY?
By ELEANORE CAREY

SYNOPSIS
A Molnar, unable to find a job voluntarily in jazz-mad New York, wrote to play jazz as a sar-tist in a Hungarian Cafe. His wife disapproved of playing the he so despises. When his wife athizes with Ted, the father is home. The public is capti-by Ted's individual style, Gail on and her employer, Mr.
ms, help Ted to organize a band of his own and induce him to ena dancer. Lena Schmidt, his sweetheart who had red him so coldly in New York, tries to reawaken his love and whom he now loves sincerely.
Lena quits the act and goes on in her place, but re-to listen to Ted until Mrs.
or explains the actual state of relations to Lena. Lena diss Ted's father working as a per at Carnegie Hall.

hanks, Ted, that's sweet of
And her sincere eyes cond him that in her heart Lena suffered and was truly contrite.
Is your mother?" she asked Lionously. "It's been so long I have seen her. Please reber me to her—won't you? At I am very lonely—sometimes
I come to see her again?"
Ted said, and at the loneliness his heart strings red the sympathy in his soul
any lonely thing and he asked,
y don't you have dinner with oday? This being Christmas, know, mother is preparing the s and everything. We can talk old times and that will be beth being lonely."
h, Ted," she cried in happiness,

toward the center of the stage out of the curtain. Ted listened an announcement he was making.

Ve are very fortunate, this atoon, in having on this bill, a a musical conductor. He is not a fine artist but a fine man as or any worthy cause, you can y depend on it—he will be e."

id's father, during the appointment, had been listening, broom in his hand. He looked all the world as a soldier at with his dignified—almost military bearing. He was excited and much interested.

he manager continued, "This has the distinction of having ed recognition for jazz music.
re was a time, you know, not one ago—when jazz music was stayed a mild form of lunacy id sometimes—not so mild—but id now reached the stage where idea came that it expressed our tern American life more nearly any other form of music. I t to introduce to you—the man has done the most to bring it this revolutionary change—les and gentlemen—Mr. Ted d, and his band!"

r. Molnar stood aghast. His ? Play "Poet and Peasant?"
mples led the huge auditor-and drifted out to the disap-ted ones listening intently out-the building. It soothed the atient and intolerant spots in father's heart and softened it eyes filled with tears, which unnedly, he wiped away with the
of his hand muttering, "My —my boy!" The sweet un-army were as balm to his

Franklin Wants Regional Meet

COLUMBUS AROUSED OVER AL-LEGED ACTIONS OF FRANK-LIN PRINCIPAL

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP)— Columbus and Franklin schools faced disrupted athletic relations today, it was reported here, as a result of action which W. S. Porter, principal of the Franklin school, is alleged to have taken in an effort to take the regional tourney from Columbus.

Porter recommended to Arthur L.
Trester, high commissioner of athletics, that the tourney be taken from Columbus because "the gymnasium was a fire hazard; the playing floor was inferior, and the seating arrangement was inadequate."

Columbus officials have refuted the charges.

The chief cause of the present
strained relations is an alleged visit which Porter made to the Columbus gymnasium without first having been invited. It was said he went there to measure the seats to secure facts to back up his arguments.

After spending the holidays as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Mayhall, at Greencastle, Mr. and Mrs.
Clay Board have returned to their home at Bloomington.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT:

Greencastle at Brazil!

We'll bet the Brazil team will play its best brand of basketball so far this season against the Tiger Cubs
this evening.

Both quintets are always cocked and primed when they get together, but we guess that is the way with all rivals.

Past records, past prowess and present rating are all for gotten when the Red Devils and Tiger Cubs tangle.

Personally, we feel that Greencas-tle will win. Bausman's proteges shoul win on the strength of their showing this winter but Brazil teams have been noted for croaking Purple and Gray teams at the most inoppor-tune times.

Many local fans will make the trip to Clay county by auto. But many others are planning to take advantage of the special rate and go by interurban.

MEDFORD MAXWELL SAID HE WAS TAKING THE BAND TO BRA-ZIL, IF HE HAD TO PAY THEIR WAY HIMSELF.

In today's contributions to Hardwood' column in the Indianapolis Star
we notice:

Jack Whoopee of Mitchell picks Greencastle in his Big Ten list. To which we say "whoopie!"

Tobin, of Greencastle, is picked as one of the best high school players in the state by an Indianapolis net enthusiast.

Ike and Mike of Greencastle the following:

Greencastle
Dear Hardwood—The Tiger Cubs
look fine and this boy Stone is going great. Friday night the Cubs journey to Brazil. Watch Tobin go to town.
Fuqua is good, too, so this should make the game all the better.

When the teams step up on the floor of the Butler fieldhouse to fight it out for the state title, one of the teams will be Greencastle.

IKE AND MIKE.

In speaking of the big game tonight, Thursday's Brazil Times said:

Greencastle against Brazil!
Doesn't that line give you a thrill?
Picture a gymnasium crowded from playing floor to roof, with several hundred wild eyed youngsters standing and yelling to their teams to put out their greatest efforts and fight to the last ounce of strength. Two high school bands will inspire their teams with their school battle songs and cheer leaders galore will go through their rhythmic gesticulations in their efforts to win the game by lung power.

Greencastle fans and students have obtained a fund to transport the Tiger Cubs' band to Brazil and word from the college city comes that the team will be followed by hundreds of spectators.

No rest for the wicked.
After their disappointing showing in the second half of the game at Evansville last week Coach Phillips is drilling his team intensely on funda-mentals in preparation for the game with Greencastle tomorrow night.
Fundamentals will probably be stressed for some time. The boys are still continuing their splendid foul shooting and these free throws will no doubt come in very handy tomorrow
night.

Gerald Fisher, who has been held on the bench because he had not fully recovered from his illness, will be turned loose against the Cubs for his first game of the season. The reserve strength is also showing up splendidly and is able to give the varsity a stiff tussle every night in practice. In spite of the New Year's holiday the Red Devils practiced as hard as usual last night.

This game tomorrow night will probably draw the biggest crowd of the season for the Red Devils. The Cubs will no doubt bring along several hundred enthusiastic fans and the gym will probably be packed. The Cubs have a very enviable record this year having won eight of nine games played. Their only defeat was at the hands of Delphi and that by a very small margin. Unlike the Brazil team, the Cubs' squad is composed of a large percentage of seniors. Coach Phillips believes in breaking in the underclassmen and leaving a foundation for the coming season. Thus far this season the Brazil five has been composed of two seniors, one junior and two sophomores.

The Red Devils have no game Saturday night and will give every thing

AT THE GRANADA

What a treat is the combination of Booth Tarkington, dramatist, Leo Carrillo, actor extraordinary, and the talking screen as synchronized by the RQA Photophone! This is found in "Mister Antonio," the Tiffany-Stahl all-talking picture in which Virginia Valli co-stars with Carrillo. It is showing at the Granada Theatre Saturday only, and it is a real delight.

"Mister Antonio" is one of those whimsical charming things that get under your skin and send you home in a glow of contentment. Tony is a hyphenated American who boasts of six names—Antonio Giovanni Raffaele Garabaldi Mussolini Camardino—the Mussolini added by himself! In winter he is a New York business man; but in the spring he turns vagabond and travels, where whimsy leads, with his donkey-drawn hurdy gurdy and a half-wit boy whose chief joy is to shoot Tony with his cap pistols.

An exceptionally good talking comedy is "Dangerous Females" starring Marie Dressler and Polly Moran on the Saturday Bill.

Tonight the final showing of "Acquitted" starring Lloyd Hughes and Margaret Livingston will make an entertainment program for the Thursday Night Movie patrons. The program tonight is also 100% talking.

AT THE GRANADA

"The Dance of Life" is the ultimate in perfection in the all-talking motion picture medium. It has everything that makes for thrilling, gripping entertainment—a romantic love story of backstage life, burlesque sequences, dancing, a gorgeous "Follies" revue, singing, music, dialogue, color. It is Paramount's master production made from the remarkably successful stage play, "Burlesque."

"The Dance of Life" will show at the Granada Theatre, starting Sunday, for three days.

Hal Skelly, who originated the role of Skid in the stage productions, continues in this part in the motion picture production. Nancy Carroll, red-headed beauty of "Close Harmony" and "Able's Irish Rose," has the other featured role. The cast includes such stage and screen favorites as Dorothy Revier, Ralph Theodor, Charles D. Brown, Al St. John, and May Boiey.

The story takes one behind the scenes in a burlesque theatre and follows the love affair of two inter-

HUSBAND HELD

WASHINGTON, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP).—Arthur Geary, 24, is a prisoner at Washington in default of $2,000 bond pending trial in Daviess circuit court charged with wife beating in a case which has aroused interest throughout this community.

The wife, Mrs. Vivian Geary, mother of one child, is in the county hospital here suffering from serious injuries alleged to have been received at the hands of her husband. She was found wandering along a country road near here and told authorities that she had jumped from an automobile driven by her husband after he had beaten her.

Authorities failed in a search for Geary, but he was taken into custody when he appeared at the hospital to call upon his wife.

TRAINS MINUS RADIOS

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP).—Residents along tracks of the Chicago & Erie railroad between here and Chicago will no longer hear radio music from trains.

F. J. Templin, superintendent of the Chicago-Huntington division of the railroad, announced that radio sets which were installed on observation cars of two of the line's crack trains have been removed.

The superintendent said trainmen paid more attention to what the sets were bringing in than the needs of the passengers, and that Pullman patrons complained the radio made so much noise they could not sleep.

HORSES SCARCE

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP).—Horses are nearly as scarce as ice skaters in the South Sea islands, and the time may come when little Esberg will have to be taken to the city zoo for a peep at the animal that has been one of man's greatest and most faithful servants.

There always will be horses because they are absolute necessities on the race track, polo field and bridle path. But mothers never again will have to shoot their offspring out of the street to keep them from being trampled under horsehoofs.

In the days of the World War, persons in the Calumet region saw the thousands of horses, for at Calumet park foreign and federal agents operated a giant concentration depot through which draft animals passed on their way to the western front.

And before that—for it was not until after the war that the country became thoroughly motorized—the

HAS METAL COLLECTION

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 3 (UP).—
"Never to old to learn" is illustrated by James Trythall, 80, who has the largest collection of metals in Indiana, including those of Purdue and Indiana universities. Trythall was 75 when he bought a book on chemistry and he has been collecting ever since.

Trythall was retired ten years ago after being in the employ of the Pen-sylvania railroad for 38 years, but he has not spent the decade in idleness, nor allowed his mind to grow stale.

In the aged man's collection is germanium, which sells for $15 a gram.
To obtain a sample, Trythall traveled about 2,000 miles by train and 200 miles by auto. He has a piece of native iron from Greenland. Among costly possessions of the collectors are iridosmine and laurite, the former costing $4 to $5 a gram and the latter $10, and difficult to obtain at that price.
